

This wet loose avalanche was on a west-southwest aspect in Beehive Basin. It broke to the ground (only 30 cm deep) but shows how a few hours of sun with above freezing temperatures can create wet slides, even in November! Photo: McKinley Talty

Advisory Region Northern Madison Longitude -111.39W Latitude 45.34N Avalanche Details: Small wet avalanche in Beehive Northern Madison, 2019-11-15