Out the last couple days with AAI Rec 2. Variable snow surfaces before this next snowfall. SE, S, W are getting cooked up to 10,000 feet, especially after today. Primarily scoured or nsf everywhere else. Mostly ECTX due to no slab present in most locations, but found a 60cm pencil hard slab at 9800 ft today on N aspect on Blackmore, ECTP 19. We did not ski the line. Weak snow was present throughout the snowpack everywhere we dug.
