

Skier triggered avalanche in Mullet near Big Sky

Date

Sat, 02/17/2024 - 17:25

Activity

Skiing

From BSSP on 2/17/24: "Mid-afternoon we received another report of a skier triggered avalanche in the Lone Lake Cirque, specifically The Mullet. The reporting party contacted several ski patrollers via cell phone and confirmed that nobody was injured or had taken the full ride. This avalanche failed near the ground on a high elevation NW facing slope with the weight of a single skier with an estimated size of HS-ASu-R3-D2.5-O."

Region

Northern Madison

Location (from list)

Lone Lake Cirque

Observer Name

BSSP