

Crown on Ross

Activity

Skiing

On our hike in we saw a crown above the East meadows on Ross. After getting up onto the shoulder we saw that the crown had a couple of inches of fresh snow on top of the debris so we assumed that the slide had happened 2 days previously with a possible human trigger. Could not see the full size of the crown due to not wanting to enter the terrain but my guess would be 2ft deep and a few hundred feet wide breaking above The Peel to the North of the Banana.
